A Letter From The President.

Dear Friends,

It is my pleasure to present to you the 2016-17 Annual Report and share with you the highlights of the past year at Dominican College. When we work together, supporting each other's aspirations, much has been and can be accomplished for the good of all. It is our common hope that Dominican College will continue to be a place where our students, faculty, staff, and administrators can grow in healthy, holistic ways. Nothing is more important than this culture of growth, commitment to improvement, and deep concern for one another.

I've heard it said that when St. Dominic Guzmán, the 13th century founder of the Dominican Order, saw people, he saw potential. Here at Dominican College, we see the incredible potential of our students. Sixty-five years ago, the College opened its doors for the first time. Today, we have nearly 14,000 alumni making an impact in the world—through their commitment to leadership, excellence, and service.

On the following pages, you will read about some of the more noteworthy accomplishments at the College over the past year. We are so very proud of the advances in our academic programs, the improvements on our campus, and the personal achievements of our students and faculty.

This past May, the first Doctor of Nursing Practice students were among the 563 graduates. Our healthcare programs, including the nursing program, have always been a source of tremendous pride for the College. Now we have the first nurses and physical therapists earning terminal degrees.

St. Dominic Guzmán

The expansion and renovation of the Hennessy Center—with a state-of-the-art fitness room, an additional gymnasium, an athletic training lab, and a new recruitment conference room—were completed in time for the start of the new school year. The entire college community and local residents will benefit from the new facilities. Certainly, our athletes now have the opportunity to be in better condition than ever before. We have also begun fundraising to convert the grass soccer field behind Forkel Hall to a turf field surrounded by a running track. This planned improvement is possible as a result of the purchase of 17 acres from the Dominican Sisters of Blauvelt in November 2016.

It was a stellar year for our athletic program, with our men's golf team becoming the first team in College history to win the NCAA Division II Regional Championship and to advance to the National Championship. In addition, the men's baseball team won their 17th CACC Tournament and advanced to the regionals.

At Dominican College, we focus on the important work of making a positive difference in the lives of students during a critical juncture in their lives, with a deep exposure to the Dominican pillars of study, community, service, and spirituality. This was noticed when the Visiting Team representing the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) visited the campus as part of the re-accreditation process. In the draft report they noted: "Students express a deep sense of being cared for by a faculty genuinely concerned about their well-being and development as well as their intellectual and professional development, and by staff and administrators—including Trustees—whose work extends that caring educational atmosphere into all areas of the College."

As we look forward to the year ahead, which will be filled with both opportunities and challenges, we appreciate you keeping the College in your prayers and among your priorities.

The College is thankful for the enthusiasm of the students, the dedication of the staff, the vision of the Board, and the magnanimity of our supporters. I continue to believe, and say often, that the quality and generosity of the people involved in the College are our greatest assets.

Best wishes for a fruitful and blessed 2017-18.

James E. Hennessy

Thinking back on all the changes that have taken place at Dominican College over the 36 years since he was first appointed to the Board of Trustees, James E. Hennessy sums it up in one word. “Amazing. It really is amazing,” he said.

When Hennessy first began serving on the Board in 1981, there were 660 full-time undergraduate students, all the buildings were rented, and there were no residence halls on campus. Since then, there has been tremendous growth in enrollment and the addition of master’s and doctorate programs. Furthermore, the College acquired land and constructed a new science building, a sports center, a dining/multi-purpose center, and three residence halls.

In June, Hennessy stepped down from the Board of Trustees, at 83 years old, but he will always be tied to the College because of his dedication to the ideals of the College and the Hennessy Center that bears his name. He fondly remembers attending the groundbreaking of the sports and fitness center in 1994 with his wife Barbara. “The Board had some kind of secret meeting and surprised us that day with the name. So that was nice—and a shock,” he said. “It was just tremendous.”

Although Hennessy served as Chair of the Board for 17 years, he is very humble about his role in the College’s growth. “It’s not about me. It is about the whole team,” he said. He stressed that the Board of Trustees had high attendance at meetings and the trustees all had a great commitment to the College. “It’s a very positive kind of feeling. After every meeting, I go away feeling good,” he said. Then he smiled and added, “Sometimes with less hair.”

It’s that gentle good humor, his deep-seated integrity, and a keen business sense that have endeared him to many. The former Executive Vice President of NYNEX and Director of New York Telephone has a bachelor’s degree in engineering and a master’s degree in business administration.

In addition to serving on the Board at Dominican College, Hennessy is a co-founder of the Palisades Institute which assists businesses, government, and not-for-profit groups in applying the principles of leadership, quality, and ethics by offering seminars and workshops. He has also been an adjunct professor at the College, teaching a management course.

James E. Hennessy

A long-time proponent of the Total Quality Management business model, which focuses on the customer, Hennessy is especially proud that Dominican College is such a welcoming college with an emphasis on the students. Hennessy points out that if you count his honorary degree bestowed upon him in 1997, Doctor of Laws, his family has three generations of Dominican College graduates. One of his sons and a grandson are Dominican College graduates.

In recognition of his numerous contributions to the College, Hennessy was appointed Trustee Emeritus in October 2017.

Sr. Catherine Howard, O.P., Ph.D.

Sr. Catherine Howard, O.P., Ph.D. has always been a loyal friend to Dominican College in many capacities—serving as a trustee, an adjunct instructor of Social Work, and a Commencement speaker. Perhaps her greatest contribution to the College, however, was her involvement in selling a 17-acre parcel of land to the College during her tenure as President of the Congregation of the Sisters of St. Dominic of Blauvelt. The land, which the College had previously leased from the Sisters, includes the Rosary Hall parking lot, Forkel Hall, and the soccer field.

“During my term, I think we as a Congregation grew in a deeper appreciation for the mission of the College as we shared life with the students on our campus,” said Sr. Catherine, whose six-year term as President of the Congregation ended in June.

The purchase of the property was finalized in November 2016. It provides many opportunities for future improvements and growth of the campus. Plans are underway to upgrade the grass soccer field to a turf field, which will enable both men’s and women’s lacrosse and soccer teams to use the field. The project will also include the construction of a running track surrounding the field for the cross-country and track and field teams. Future phases of the project call for the addition of lights to the field, and the construction of a fieldhouse with locker rooms and restrooms.

Sr. Catherine said the Sisters are delighted that the sale will allow for the revitalization of the property. “Many of the Sisters of St. Dominic are graduates of Dominican College from years past so it’s deep within our spirit to really help the College,” she said. Sr. Catherine also stressed that the proceeds from the sale benefited the Sisters’ mission as well.

A skilled leader with a lifetime of service, some of Sr. Catherine’s past positions include Assistant Director of Siena House, Director of Ryan White Services, and Executive Director of the Maryknoll Missioners’ Mission Project Series. She is now on a study sabbatical at the Catholic Theological Union in Chicago.

Sr. Catherine will remain on the College’s Board of Trustees.

Growth Through Service to Others

What made Dominican College special for you?

The Dominican College community as a whole is dramatically different from any school I have visited or heard about. I don't know of any other school that has the same close-knit community, where people really care about each other.

You're currently in medical school, after majoring in biology. What can you say about the undergraduate preparation you received here?

It could not have been better. I feel incredibly well prepared. The pre-med tracks were set up perfectly, and unlike many of my fellow medical school students, I benefited from undergraduate courses in anatomy and physiology. Those required courses have really given me a leg up.

Who inspired you at Dominican College?

The professors in biology are amazing. They are always there for you no matter what and it was clear that they wanted us to succeed. That's all they care about. There were small classes, so I got plenty of attention, endless attention. I wasn't a number. Dr. Mignione was my freshman bio teacher. She said that from the first time she saw me—before she even knew my name—that she knew I was going to do big things and that was super motivating.

When you weren't studying biology, what kept you busy at Dominican College

I was a Student Ambassador, midnight run coordinator, and in my junior year, president of Rotaract. With Rotaract, we collected money for reusable water bottles for El Salvador and supplies for Haiti after the 2016 hurricane. I was also an RA which helped me develop time-management skills that are really coming in handy now. The service projects were especially important, too. The science part of being a doctor is what hooked me from the beginning, but doing all those service projects brought the humanity into it. That definitely translates into caring for patients.

Chris Dahl graduated in 2017 with a B.S. in biology and a chemistry minor. He received several honors and awards during his time at Dominican College including the Outstanding Senior Award at the 63rd Commencement Exercises in 2017. He is currently studying at Stony Brook University School of Medicine.

Success Through Challenging Academics

What is the best thing about the College?

I found that the faculty were always willing to offer help and advice. I was a commuter student and I spent a lot of time in the accounting office talking to Professors Pennino, Coyne, and Armstrong about classes and goals and post-graduation plans. They really helped me find a career plan that made sense for me.

Did you take advantage of formal career counseling, too?

Yes. The Career Development Center did a great job preparing me for interviews and helping me build my resume. In particular, Evelyn Fiskaa helped me figure out how to find work at the sort of firm I wanted.

What else did you do while you were a student here?

I really took advantage of the job fairs. Those were opportunities for me to evaluate how I present myself and make changes based on the feedback I received. I also worked full-time while I was a student at Dominican College, and the flexible scheduling I was offered helped me manage it all.

Is there something you learned here that comes in handy on a regular basis?

I took International Business with Dr. Hsu. That class led me to believe that an International business degree made a lot of sense, and I pursued it further—my MBA is in public accounting with a certificate in international business. At Deloitte I interact with component teams from all over the world, so this is something I use on a daily basis.

I should also mention Professor Armstrong and the tips he gave me on passing the CPA exam. His suggestions made all the difference.

Nataly Santana graduated in 2011 with a degree in accounting. After a year at a small Pearl River accounting firm, she joined Deloitte where she was recently promoted to audit manager. She serves on the Rockland chapter board of the NYS Society of CPAs.

Nurturing of Lifelong Friendships

What can you tell us about the effect Dominican College has had on you?

You'd never believe it now, but I was a very shy freshman.

And now?

Completely the opposite (laughs). I credit it all to one event during my freshman year. One day, I was sitting alone in the Granito Center, eating lunch when Katrina Redmond came over to me and encouraged me to attend a CAB event. It was great, and I kept going back. This year, I'm CAB president.

If you had to single out one thing that makes the College special, what would it be?

The warm family feel. There are friendly faces everywhere, and no one turns you away when you need help or support. In fact, there's one story I tell all the time... during my campus visit, before I decided to come here, one of the Freshmen counselors recognized me immediately. He had been to my school once or twice for college fairs and he remembered my name and face. It took me by surprise but it also really drove home the fact that this is a family feel sort of school.

Any big surprises during your time here?

I made Dean's List every year, which means I will be getting my gold tassel. I never thought I could do that.

When you aren't studying how do you fill your time?

Aside from SGA and the Charger Activities Board, I love being a Peer Mentor and I am getting some great experience working at the Saint Dominic School. I'm very grateful for the opportunities the College has given me.

Amanda Corriere has been involved in SGA and the Chargers Activities Board, while also serving as a Peer Mentor. After she graduates this May with a B.A. in Social Sciences, she plans to complete her Master in Occupational Therapy at Dominican College. This semester she's working as a One-on-One Aid at the Saint Dominic's School. She has been inducted into four honor societies, spoke at the Class of '21 Convocation and was awarded the Don Harshburger Award for Outstanding Contribution to the Life of the College.

Josh Guzman, '19

The Discovery of Professional Passions

What's the best thing about Dominican College?

The professors. I've had several who were willing to go the extra mile for me.

Who stands out?

Greg DiDona, my freshman year, seminar instructor. His door was always open for me. I went to him for guidance for classes and when I became a peer mentor for freshmen seminar. I'd also single out Professor Arden. She is incredibly knowledgeable and she really cares about students. She makes sure we understand the material, and you can tell she really loves her job. That enthusiasm really rubs off on students!

Is there any one thing you can do now, that you couldn't do before you came to Dominican College?

I wasn't a good public speaker. I got very nervous in front of crowds. Suddenly I am a Student Ambassador and I have to address scores of freshmen from the podium during registration days. It was nerve wracking at first, but over time I have gotten very good and very comfortable.

You're a Student Ambassador, too?

That's right

Which means you lead tours, showing the campus to prospective students.

It's one of my favorite things.

Why?

I am usually the first Dominican College person they meet. It's a big responsibility, representing the faculty, and the entire student population. You never get a second chance to make a first impression, and for a lot of these new students, I'm the first impression. I really like having that opportunity with prospective students, to let them know how the College has impacted me.

Josh Guzman is a nursing major who expects to graduate in 2019. He has been a Student Ambassador, and Peer Mentor, a member of the Ultimate Frisbee Club, SNADC, and a frequent Meals on Wheels volunteer. Last year Josh was awarded the Sister Barbara Spirited Involvement on Campus Award and the Student Ambassador Leadership Award. In September 2017 he received the Spirit of the Founders Award. After graduation, he hopes to work as a nurse on a cardiology unit.

State-of-the-Art Fitness Center Opens.

Inside The New Hennessy Center

After about a year's worth of construction, the Hennessy Center has been transformed into a two-story facility featuring a state-of-the-art fitness center, weight room, batting cages, and an additional regulation-size NCAA basketball court.

The new $5 million fitness center is about four times larger than the former fitness room and has 30 pieces of cardio equipment as compared to six in the old room. There is also an aerobics room with bikes for spin classes.

John Burke, V.P. of Student Development, said, "I think our teams are going to be fitter and in better shape. For coaches who are recruiting, the new fitness center is a huge advantage."

The expansion includes a new, regulation-size NCAA gym on the same level as the current gym, which will allow for more intramural sports and "open gym" time for the general student population. There are also new coaches' offices, a new recruiting room/conference area and an athletic training area with two whirlpools.

Hennessy Center Dedication

The latest campus addition—the Hennessy Center Fitness Center—was showcased during a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Thursday, October 19, 2017.

College President Sr. Mary Eileen O'Brien, O.P., Ph.D., reviewed the College history from its founding in 1952 and the need since then for recreational opportunities for residential students. "This expansion includes an additional gym, a well-equipped fitness center and a creative practice and program space. How grateful we are to the many people who brought it to fruition," she said.

Sr. Mary Eileen thanked the Building and Grounds Committee of the Board, Holt Construction, Dominican College's Facilities Staff and the many donors. In addition, she thanked State Senator David Carlucci, who was in attendance, for his support.

Senator Carlucci cited a study that found students enrolled in a school fitness center had higher GPAs and were more likely to graduate. That is important, he said, because Dominican College graduates contribute so much to the community. "The things that are going on here at Dominican College don't just stay within these walls, they proliferate to our larger community and improve the quality of life of all of the people in our community and in New York State," he said.

The dignitaries and donors at the ceremony toured the improvements and additions to the Hennessy Center, including the new gym, the fitness center, an athletic training lab, and a recruiting/conference room. The festivities included a ribbon-cutting outside both the gym and the fitness center. Sr. Barbara McEneaney, O.P., Director of Campus Ministry, blessed the area outside of the fitness center with Holy Water. In addition, two plaques listing the project's top donors were unveiled outside the new gym.

The Year in Review.

Dominican College Adopts Test-Optional Policy

Dominican College is the first college in Rockland County to adopt a test-optional policy, which is a growing trend nationwide. According to FairTest, the National Center for Fair and Open Testing, more than 950 colleges and universities nationwide have announced test-optional policies.

“We have found that a student’s overall high school academic record is the best indicator of a student’s success in college and the research backs that up,” said College President Sr. Mary Eileen O’Brien, O.P., Ph.D. “We’ve also been particularly concerned that studies indicate performance on standardized tests is closely linked to family income and education level, and may not be the best indicator for all students.”

Sr. Mary Eileen added that this new policy aligns with the mission of Dominican College, which is focused on maintaining “a student-centered climate” that “serves a diverse community of students.” She said, “It’s hoped that this new policy will re-focus both students and parents on what really matters—day-to-day performance in the classroom and the personal characteristics of the student.”

Two Biology Students Awarded Highly-Competitive Research Fellowships

Two Dominican College Biology students were awarded highly-competitive paid research fellowships to fund their summer research work on the Sparkill Creek.

Kimberly Acevedo and Christina Joseph spent 10 weeks this summer on their projects and used a Dominican College research laboratory in the Prusmack Center.

Acevedo received an American Society of Microbiology Undergraduate Research Fellowship, which entitles her to a $4,000 stipend, plus an invitation to present her work at the 2018 meeting in Atlanta, GA. Her research focuses on understanding and analyzing the biodiversity of microbial and viral life in the Sparkill Creek and the Piermont Marsh. Just 24 of these fellowships were awarded nationwide.

Joseph received a Tibor T. Polgar Fellowship through the Hudson River Foundation. She will receive a $3,800 stipend, along with $1,000 for supplies. The focus of her work is to compare the Sparkill Creek in Rockland County and NJ to the Pocantico River in Westchester County. Only eight Polgar Fellowships were awarded.

Students and Administrators Volunteer in El Salvador

A team of students and administrators traveled to El Salvador in January to volunteer at a day camp in the rural village of Sol Naciente.

Thanks to two College administrators, plans are also underway to build a new well that will bring clean drinking water to three communities in El Salvador. Vice President of Institutional Advancement Dorothy Filoramo is the past president of the Pearl River Rotary. While the students were working in the day camp, she and Director of Residence Life, Ryan O’Gorman, met with community leaders to cement plans to build a new, deeper well.

1st

optional policy

Year in Review

Filoramo said it was during last year's service mission that they discovered the communities needed more than the water filtration systems they handed out to residents. "The well is running dry. It services three communities and each gets water every third day, even though it's dirty water. So what we discovered was they needed a new well," she said. The Pearl River Rotary has raised $25,000 and plans to get a matching global grant from Rotary International to fund the project. The new well is expected to be completed in the next two years.

Federal Reserve Bank of NY Leaders Present Positive "Outlook on the Economy"

Joseph Tracy, Executive Vice President and Senior Advisor to the President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, spoke at the sixth annual

"Outlook on the Economy: National and Regional Perspectives."

The two senior leaders from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York were optimistic during their presentation on January 13, 2017, in the Fury Lecture Hall in the Prusmack Center.

Student Chosen for Selective NY Program for Aspiring Filmmakers

Senior Joseph Key was one of just 31 students chosen statewide to participate in Pitch NY—a program for aspiring filmmakers, producers, and writers. During the day-long interactive workshop, the students heard from industry leaders, pitched their ideas, and got advice. The workshop took place at NBCUniversal's 30 Rockefeller Plaza studios.

While Joseph is a Nursing major, he explains that he has two passions in life—nursing, which he finds very fulfilling, and filmmaking, which allows him to express his creativity. Before attending Dominican College, he spent one year at the New York Film Academy. In his free time, he produces videos and short films and shares them on the internet.

The event, hosted by the Governor's Office of Motion Picture & Television Development and NBCUniversal Studios, in collaboration with the National Hispanic Foundation for the Arts, is the latest State initiative to promote the inclusion of diverse voices in the entertainment industry.

College Partners with Rockland Center for the Arts

Dominican College and the Rockland Center for the Arts (RoCA) have teamed up to offer art courses this fall at the center in West Nyack. RoCA Executive Director Daly Flanagan stressed that students who take classes at RoCA will be exposed to the art exhibits on display at the center.

"It's like full immersion," she said. "You are not just going to a classroom in your college, but you will be passing artists and art every time that you come here."

Flanagan said students will also get free studio time, which will allow them to develop as an artist independently. Dominican College will offer two classes at RoCA in fall, Introduction to Art and Ceramics.

Middle States Visiting Team Evaluates College

The visiting team representing the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) visited the Dominican College campus from April 23 to April 26 as part of an extensive self-study and re-accreditation review.

Dr. Thomas Nowak, VP for Academic Affairs, said that the team was comprised of representatives of institutions located in our geographic area that are similar to Dominican College in their size and mission.

"The purpose behind peer accreditation is to ensure that those who fully understand the role and responsibility of higher education are the ones who assess the College and give feedback on how the College meets MSCHE Standards for Re-accreditation and Requirements of Affiliation. The Team also provides recommendations to assist the institution as it pursues continual improvement,” he said.

The two year re-accreditation process included the preparation of a report by the College’s Self-Study Steering Committee, led by Dr. Nowak, Brian Fernandes, VP for Enrollment Management, and Dr. Kathleen Conlon Hinge, Assistant Professor of Physics and Mathematics. The Self-Study Report was submitted in March 2017.

The Self-Study re-accreditation process with MSCHE has been required every ten years. Moving forward, however, it will be required every eight years.

Accreditation ensures students of a quality education and affirms that an institution operates at the highest standards of educational commitment. MSCHE is recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education and the Council on Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) as the accrediting body overseeing all regionally accredited colleges and universities in the Mid-Atlantic states, as well as those in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and in several foreign countries.

College Celebrates Earth Week

Dominican College students participated in the first-ever March for Science in New York City on Saturday, April 22. It was one of about 600 rallies held in the U.S. and around the world on Earth Day to call for public policy decisions to be based on data.

Participation in the March for Science was one of several ways that Dominican College celebrated Earth Week. There was also participation in a conference on debris in waterways, campus and community cleanups, a photography exhibit and a tree-planting ceremony. A magnolia tree was planted in honor of Biology Professor Dr. Bernadette Connors, who was given the 2017 Friend of the Earth Award.

Chancellor Sr. Kathleen Sullivan, O.P., said Dr. Connors is a wonderful asset to the College and pointed to her work with students in cleaning up tributaries to the Hudson River. “She has given her life to the earth and its care and to the students who are learning how the earth is impacting our lives,” she said.

College Places Students In Record Number of Internships

Dominican College students were placed in more internships during the 2016-2017 school year than ever before. Evelyn Fiskaa, Director of Career Development, said students were placed in 103 paid and unpaid internships.

Fiskaa said students benefit from internships in a number of ways. “It gives them an opportunity to try out a field to see if they really like that field or not. It’s an opportunity for them to build some skills in their area of interest,” she said. “It’s a resume builder, an opportunity to have a mentor, and also to develop professional contacts and networking for the future.”

In addition, Fiskaa said many large companies are looking to hire student interns full time after they graduate.

Dominican College students intern in a variety of locations throughout the tristate area. A number of new organizations were added to the list this past year, including the MSG Garden of Dreams Foundation, Columbia University, and the Hackensack University Medical Center.

Fiskaa attributes the increase in internships to the addition of an internship coordinator/career counselor in her office who assists in meeting with students and doing classroom presentations. In addition, the College has cultivated more relationships with employers. She said there is an increased awareness among faculty about the benefits of internships as well.

College Purchases 17 Acres from Dominican Sisters of Blauvelt

On November 7, 2016, the College finalized the purchase of 17 acres of land, which had previously been leased from the Dominican Sisters of Blauvelt. The parcel includes the Rosary Hall parking lot, Forkel Hall, the soccer fields, and practice fields.

Ownership of the land provides many opportunities for future improvements and growth of the campus. Fundraising has begun to convert the grass soccer field to a turf field, surrounded by a running track, with a new scoreboard and bleachers. The field would be used by men’s and women’s soccer teams in fall and men’s and women’s lacrosse teams in spring. The new track would be used by men’s and women’s cross country in fall and men’s and women’s track and field in spring.

This is the first phase of a three phase project. Future phases call for the addition of lights to the new turf field and the construction of a fieldhouse with locker rooms and restrooms. It is hoped that the first phase—construction of the turf field and track—will be completed by summer 2019.

In Memoriam: Sister Marian Reed, O.P.

Longtime Professor of Mathematics and Science at Dominican College, Sr. Marian Reed, O.P., died on March 23, 2017. She was 90 years of age.

Sr. Marian taught for 36 years at Dominican College, from 1971–2007. College President Sr. Mary Eileen O'Brien, O.P., Ph.D., said Sr. Marian was totally committed to her students and was instrumental in the growth of the College.

“She was a scientist who not only taught well, but she developed new majors in Mathematics and Biology. She provided the prerequisites for the College’s nursing program,” said Sr. Mary Eileen. “She worked collaboratively with colleagues in the development of the Occupational and Physical Therapy programs. How she delighted in the success of these programs and the rich contributions of her students.”

Sr. Marian earned a B.S. in Education and an M.S. in Physics from Fordham University. In addition to her work at Dominican College, which included serving as Director of Science and Mathematics, Sr. Marian taught science and math for 14 years in elementary schools.

Departures

Marge Boyd, Ph.D., Coordinator of Graduate Academics and Community/Program Outreach.

Over the past 25 years,
Dr. Marge Boyd's contributions to the Occupational Therapy program and to the College have been extensive. She particularly excelled at mentoring students and working with them on the development of their critical thinking and clinical reasoning skills.

Dr. Boyd first came to Dominican College in 1986 as a student in the Occupational Therapy program. Five years later, she returned to the College as the OT program's part-time Administrative Coordinator. As the program continued to grow, so did her responsibilities, and her position became full time in 1994. In 2002, her title changed to Coordinator of Academic Studies and Field Work.

While she worked here,
Dr. Boyd continued to develop her professional qualifications, most recently earning a MHP and a Ph.D. in Occupational Therapy. Outside of the College, she was active in terms of presentations and publications, and was always a source of pride for the College.

Madeline Mignone, Ph.D.,
Associate Professor of Biology.

Dr. Madeline Mignone's influence and enthusiasm, over the past 16 years, goes well beyond the Science programs and out into all areas of the College. She always put the College and its students first in everything she did, working tirelessly to support students inside and outside the classroom.

Under Dr. Mignone's leadership, the Biology program never stopped growing and innovating and now attracts the best and brightest students. Thanks to her, students now have the option of pursuing separate tracks in Pre-Medicine and Pre-Physical Therapy, Environmental Science, and certification in Adolescence Education. In addition, Biology students conduct advanced research projects individually and in conjunction with their faculty and some have pursued opportunities to participate in research studies with partner institutions. Students have also presented the results of these studies at regional and national conferences, further spreading the excellent reputation of the program.

A new Biology research lab in Forkel Hall was named the Madeline Micceri Mignone Laboratory in October 2014, in recognition of all Dr. Mignone has done for the College.

Emily Callanan, M.S.N., Instructor in Nursing, after five years at the College.

Catherine Cavaliere, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Occupational Therapy, after 16 months of service as a full-time faculty member.

Sonia "Nikki" Gawronski, DPT, Assistant Professor of Physical Therapy & Coordinator of Clinical Education for Physical Therapy, after three years at the College.

Service Milestones

35 Years of Service

Philip Sciame, M.B.A.,
Assistant Professor of Computer Information Systems. Thirty-five years ago, Philip Sciame was instrumental in getting the College's Computer Science program off the ground. Since that time, he has been admired as a true College team player who has been involved in many activities.

As an Assistant Professor of Computer Science, Sciame has always put the needs of his students first. He continually works on improving the CIS curriculum to attract more students to the field. Recently Professor Sciame developed a hands-on course on the Science of Robotics. Hudson Valley P-Tech, presented him with their "Above and Beyond Award" for his work with their program.

Professor Sciame has been involved with just about every College-wide Committee. He brought Sigma Beta Delta, the National Business Honor Society, to the Dominican College campus, and he remains the chapter's president. In 2011, Professor Sciame was inducted into the Dominican College Athletic Hall of Fame for Service.

Professor Sciame is also remarkably involved in his local community, participating in his local parish, the Boy Scouts of America, the Palisades Institute, and several other organizations.
