CONFERRAL OF HONORARY DEGREE

BRANDON HASBROUCK

“Human progress is neither automatic nor inevitable... Every step toward the goal of justice requires sacrifice, suffering, and struggle; the tireless exertions and passionate concern of dedicated individuals.”

—Martin Luther King, Jr.

The professional career of Dominican College alumnus Brandon Hasbrouck is very much in its ascendancy, but in only a decade he has already established himself as a rising star in the practice and theory of law. Whether preparing court cases for one of the nation’s most prestigious legal firms, serving as a law clerk on the federal circuit, or teaching legal theory at a premiere law school, Brandon finds his inspiration in pursuing “the hard work of justice” united with a desire ever to excel.

A top high school student and standout athlete, Brandon matriculated at Dominican College as a freshman in 2004. From the beginning, he embraced the College’s mission to promote “reflective understanding and compassionate involvement” in the pursuit of achieving “a more just, ethical and sustainable world.” During his four years as an undergraduate student majoring in History, Brandon excelled in the classroom and in student leadership, earning numerous awards along the way. He was also the founder and president of the College’s Debating Society and president of two honor societies. Throughout his illustrious undergraduate career, Brandon became the very embodiment of the College’s core educational goals: educate the mind, develop the self, inspire change, and serve the community.

The fire to advance the cause of justice has been a notable cornerstone of Brandon’s adult life. It was this passion that led him to spend the summer before beginning law school in 2008 working in a non-profit fellowship program that provides community development programs, including voter registration drives, in communities like Scranton, Pennsylvania. Now as a professional attorney, Brandon continues to serve the community through his pro bono work on behalf of the poor and marginalized. Through this volunteer activity, he seeks to achieve criminal justice transformation that will break patterns of injustice for those living under systemic conditions of vulnerability.

Brandon’s talents as a legal theorist were evident during his tenure as a law student at Washington and Lee University School of Law in Lexington, Virginia. There, he earned the Frederic L. Kirgis International Law Award for Excellence in International Law and was inducted into two honor societies. In his second year of studies, Brandon achieved perhaps the summit of accomplishments for any law student, that of appointment as Editor-in-Chief of the school’s law review journal. After serving with distinction in this capacity for the Washington and Lee Law Review, Brandon graduated magna cum laude in the top ten percent of his class in 2011.

Brandon returned home after graduation to take his first professional position as a Litigation Associate with Debevoise & Plimpton LLP in New York City, one of the nation’s top legal firms. With the incomparable knowledge he gained from preparing legal cases, he later decided to expand the breadth of his legal experience by spending time as a federal law clerk.

In 2019, Brandon left the active practice of law and returned to his alma mater, the Washington and Lee University School of Law, to become an Assistant Professor. Brandon has made a rapid and successful transition to academia. He has already participated in several national-level legal conferences and workshops and has published his first article in the Georgetown Law Journal, one of the nation’s top five legal journals. Because of its annual acceptance rate of less than one percent for submitted articles, publication in the Georgetown Law Journal typically marks a lifetime achievement among law professors. Notably, Brandon accomplished this distinction in only his first year as a professor. He is most proud of his work in the classroom, however, where he quickly has become a favorite professor of the student body, inspiring them to embrace law’s most fundamental principle—justice.

In recognition of his accomplishments in the practice of law and of his dedication to criminal justice reform, Dominican College is proud to confer upon alumnus Brandon Hasbrouck, Class of 2008, the degree of Doctor of Law, *honoris causa.

Refrain

Our College is Dominican
We will sing it loud and clear.
Our College is Dominican
We are proud that we are here.

You have cared and taught and loved us
You have helped us to increase
In our wisdom and our knowledge,
In our search for truth and peace.
May the light of your high standards
Guide our path as years go by.
We are grateful, Dominican College,
As we raise our voices high.

Refrain

Our College is Dominican
We will sing it loud and clear.
Our College is Dominican
We are proud that we are here.

Now we pledge our lives in service
So our talents we might give.
Meet the challenge, yet before us,
That in justice all might live.
May the light of your high standards
Guide our path as years go by.
We are grateful, Dominican College,
As we raise our voices high.

Refrain

Our College is Dominican
We will sing it loud and clear.
Our College is Dominican
We are proud that we are here.
